
Table of Contents

The Fifth Editorial Board	3
Article Editors	4
Foreword from Academic Sponsor	5
Acknowledgement from Editor-in-Chief and Deputy Editors-in-Chief	7
About the Journal	9

ARTICLES

Analysing the U.S. Drone Program's Deployment of Armed Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs) for Targeted Killings Outside of National Boundaries Amit Anand and Preethi Lolaksha Nagaveni	10
The Ciudad Juárez Fire: Zemiology's Expansion of a Criminological Analysis Grace Alexandra Bell	38
The Making of a Monster: The Perpetrators of the 1984 Sikh Riots Rohita Gharu	48
Cyberwarfare and the Challenges it Poses to the International Governance of Armed Conflict Hannah Gray	64
Trusting the Untrustworthy: How Trust is Established and Maintained in Illicit Markets Alison Greene	77
Psychological Explanations for Surveillance Technologies in Crime Prevention Juliana Kubik	97
Displacing Northern Dominant Criminological Discourse: The Importation of Southern Criminology into Criminological Literature and Its Implications Yu Jie Ong	114

A new EUtopia – Understanding Common European Asylum System (CEAS) and the criminalisation of migration in Europe

Linn Pfitzner

131

Should military robots designed to evacuate injured soldiers from the battlefield carry small arms for self-defence and are the technological challenges involved insurmountable?

Amelia Retter

151

The Overstated Challenge: Analysing the Challenge of Southern Criminology to the Hegemony of Northern Criminology and its Implications for Criminological Theory in the 21st Century

Shilun Zhou

177

A Comparative Analysis of the Prosecutorial Strategies Employed by the United States of America and Germany in the Prosecution of IS-Affiliated Women on Terrorism-Related Charges

Ariana Zimmermanns

197